

KISKA is Designing Desire

Great design has the capacity to attract attention, stir emotion and spark loyalty for your brand. This is what we call Designing Desire and it is not just a vision, it's the brand promise we live up to for our clients everyday.

+ Sports Apparel Designer m/f

The position of sports apparel designer at KISKA offers a unique opportunity to work for some of the world's top brands, producing premium functional and casual wear.

This is a unique opportunity to have a direct influence on the design and style of the company's apparel whilst making your own mark. As part of the international and interdisciplinary team, you will have contact points across various services. Working alongside specialists in fields such as strategic consultancy, research, brand innovation, transportation design, product communication, corporate design, photography and film, project management, digital media, marketing and more – you will benefit from our world class team's knowledge and experience, whilst adding to your own.

Your qualifications and accountabilities:

As our Sports apparel designer you will combine your passion for sports with your design background to create a unique style for our customers' functional gear. You will skillfully manage a fine balance between the fashion aspect and garment functionality, delivering a special gear experience for the user! You will take the reigns and deliver exceptional products and so will need to be able to perform at all stages of the process – from developing the full concept, to the development of cuts and production data, interacting with suppliers, and right up to presenting the finished products.

Your experience:

Through your education and a design career of at least 3 – 5 years in positions at international sports apparel companies, you will be able to demonstrate how you have not only grown your experience, but also developed your own style. You will already have experience with functional sports gear, along with having designed casual wear before. An interest in motorcycles or similar action sports will enable you to meet the technical background required to design functional and fashionable power wear, with a detailed understanding of the end user. You are flexible about what you design, whether apparel or accessories, and are confident enough in the strength of your design expertise to carry concepts through to supporting the color and trim department on motorcycles where needed.

In conclusion, if your German language skills are excellent, your English is fluent and you see the job description as "made for you" then take the next step in your career and apply for this ideal opportunity at KISKA today.

About KISKA:

KISKA co-creates desirable brand experiences by placing the brand at the centre of the product and the product at the centre of the brand. Some of the world's best brands trust KISKA to sharpen, shape and create their future, delivering on their brand's unique values by working closely with them and thinking creatively. Brand has the capacity to attract attention, stir emotion and spark loyalty. This is what we call Designing Desire and it is the brand promise that we live up to everyday.

KISKA GmbH
St. Leonharder-Straße 4
5081 Anif-Salzburg, Austria
www.kiska.com

Compliant with Austrian legal provisions: We offer a monthly salary of € 2.100 gross (fulltime) for this position, with a willingness to overpay depending on qualification and experience

